

The Mail Ego

By Terrence O'Flaherty

"Is it true that the television heroes will abandon their guns as a means of solving all the Hollywood plots next season?"

That won't happen until someone assassinates a TV producer. While we're waiting, don't expect much change. One new private eye will be played by Darren McGavin without a gun. He's planning to kill the villains with kindness. The only new series in violence-conscious Hollywood whose stars aren't worried about the gun problem is "Adam-12." In it Kent McCord and Martin Milner play policemen.

"Did any television series ever have a winning Indian?"

The one I can recall is "Iron Horse." Its star, Dale Robertson, is part Cherokee.

Who was the funny bald-headed guy who provided the only laughs on the TV Academy Show? My wife and I are still wondering why he hasn't become famous in Hollywood because of it.

Don Rickles is his name and he's famous in Hollywood already as an "insult" comedian. At one time or another he has insulted every star in Hollywood in his nightclub routine. In September he will be the star of his own TV series and you can see him once a week on ABC.

"Who sings the theme song for 'Petticoat Junction'?"

Curt Massey, the musical director for the series. He got there first.

"What star has won the most Oscars?"

Walter Brennan is the only performer to win more than two Oscars but he did it as a supporting player not a star. Eight stars have won twice: Luise Rainer, Bette Davis, Vivian Leigh, Ingrid Bergman, Olivia de Havilland, Spencer Tracy, Fredric March, and Gary Cooper.

"Can you tell me something about the actress who plays the part of Marsha Russell in 'Peyton Place'?"

Her name is Barbara Rush age 38, and she's one of the few Hollywood actresses with a college education. Despite this handicap she became a star in her first movie, "The First Legion" opposite Charles Boyer. Her association with 20th Century Fox, (where "Peyton Place" is filmed) began in 1955 with the part of an oriental girl in "Love Is A Many Splendored Thing." She has four children and is married to a Hollywood public relations man which comes in handy.

"Is there hope for a good adult drama series on television next season?"

"CBS Playhouse," which presented the top dramatic shows of the past year is turning Oct. 15 with "The People Next Door" by J. P. Miller. The veteran "Hallmark Hall of Fame" is also returning. The one new series is "Prudential's On Stage," which plans five or iginal contemporary dramas by top writers on NBC.

"What has ever become of Mary Costa, the blonde soprano who became a television performer with Ed Sullivan so she could study for grand opera?"

She made it. She has sung in most of the great opera houses of the world in the past decade. She is studying now for her role in "Fra Diavolo" with San Francisco Opera this fall.

El Camino Offers Five New Classes

The Industry and Technology Division of El Camino College will offer five new classes during the coming fall semester, according to Dr. G. Theodore Elmgren Jr., coordinator for the division.

Automotive Technology is an apprentice course for students interested in the field of parts counterman.

Building Construction 12, Construction Supervision and Inspection, is an evening three-unit class. Students will learn contract document and plan reading layout and mechanics of materials. The course is offered primarily for persons already employed in the business.

General Studies 41, Community Relations and Law Enforcement, is for the non-transfer student. The three-unit course is designed to aid students in understanding the relation of police to the community.

Peace Officer 195, Police Emergency Procedures, is a one-unit course for policemen who may be confronted with an emergency situation.

Technical 56, Advanced Strain Gauge, is a three-unit course similar to electronics which is related to installation and associated instrumentation of the strain gauge.

Registration for the fall semester begins Aug. 26 and ends Sept. 6.

Further information regarding these and other vocational courses scheduled for the fall semester may be obtained

Contract For Road Awarded

A $520,640 contract for the improvement of Crenshaw Boulevard on the Palos Verdes Peninsula has been awarded, Supervisor Burton W. Chace said today.

The Board of Supervisors yesterday awarded the job to the Griffith Co. of Los Angeles. The firm submitted the lowest of three bids, which ranged to a high of $598,219.

The eight-tenths of a mile section, between Silver Spur Road and Crest Road, will be widened to four lanes and fully curbed. Raised center dividers will be installed, as well as a guard rail and road drains.
